After graduating from law school (University of Fribourg) in 1987, and obtaining an LL.M. from the University of Tübingen (Germany) in 1993, Denis Schroeter was admitted to the Bar in 1994. He started his career as a bank in-house counsel, but soon decided to pursue his calling to work as an independent lawyer and has been in private practice for over 20 years. He has been a partner at Hartmann Dreyer since 2010.

Me Schroeter advises private clients, corporations and municipal and state authorities. He has extensive experience in Civil Law (including Family Law), Contract and Tort Law, Banking Law and Administrative Law (Construction Law and land use planning) and he welcomes further work in these areas. He also takes on Criminal Law cases.

In his legal work, Denis Schroeter pays particular attention to three key aspects of managing a case: (1) close cooperation and full transparency with his clients in order to understand their needs and establish the facts of the case, (2) a thorough legal analysis based on these facts, and (3) a well thought-out legal strategy that takes into account the human aspects of the case.

Denis Schroeter has been a member of the Board of the Bar Association in Fribourg (OAF) since 2003 and acted as its Chairman from 2015 to 2017.
